In this brief essay drawn from church dogmatics Barth articulates what it means to follow Jesus in faith. He emphasizes that discipleship involves a detachment from the authority of possessions foregoing the pursuit of personal glory challenging the fear and use of force the dissolution of self evident personal attachments and a better righteousness which goes beyond actions to intentions and practices piety in secret the command of jesus is issued with all the freedom and sovereignty of grace against which there can be no legitimate objections of which no one is worthy for which there can be no preparation which none can elect and in the face of which there can be no qualification a highly challenging call to respond with our whole hearts to christ to follow our saviour is not about being nice it s about taking risks simon writes there s a battle going on for our hearts what i watch what i listen to what i spend my time and money on all these erode my true sense of identify and worth as a child of god where is the vigilance the discernment the scrutiny our hearts are far too precious to treat with such lax indifference i want to play my part in turning the world upside down i want to be fearless bold uncompromising and passionate in reaching out to the lost on behalf of the king of kings i never want to get over the grace of god discipleship has to do with what a believer is before what he does to reverse the order will be to court disaster to ignore either will be to destroy true christianity both the character and behaviour of the christian are important our emphasis in this book is upon the christian character since from it arises the christian s behaviour the christian life is hidden with christ col 3 3 union with christ leads to everlasting life spiritual strength and ultimate safety what the world sees of the christian is only the tip of the iceberg the bulk of his true self being hidden from physical sight many are the internal struggles of the christian known only to himself and god despite these the true disciple of christ can sing often you are my hiding place you shall preserve me from trouble you shall surround me with songs of deliverance psalm 32 7 what first led me to write a book on discipleship is the compelling force to pass on something to this generation things the lord has taught and exposed me to over the years things that are not of doctrine but of life the second is that people from various churches go through discipleship and mission training in capro offices in different cities and we do not have materials to give them that are concise and written in the context of our environment the third reason is closely related to the second we teach these things especially the course call to discipleship as churches invite us to run training on discipleship and missions and we have no materials to leave behind for them to read this demand provoked me to work on this book the fourth reason stems from a commission we received from a christian leader to publish the truth and scatter it everywhere as certain men are spreading a message that is not really the gospel one effective way to contend for the faith which was once delivered to the saints is to keep publishing the truth what we speak may be forgotten soon after we had left a meeting but what is published will last several generations i have faith that several years after i might have gone if the lord tarries someone will find this little book may be covered with dust and republish it to contend the violence that will be unleashed against the church except the lord does something speedily the coming years will be one of the worst for the church i am praying within me that this book will be part of god s reserved army to resist the force of evil in days ahead it is my prayer that through this book this purpose will be accomplished as well as meet the need of our lord today in raising instruments of war out of his many children who have seen it fit to walk this path it is for these reasons that this book is written may god bless it and turn it into a live coal in his hand and burn it into the hearts of our readers amen
